What Is The TalkSystem?

The TalkSystem consists of a unique, patented microphone which is linked to wireless transmitters and receivers to provide voice silenced communication that is entirely self-contained and portable.

The TalkSystem allows an interpreter to simultaneously translate spoken words without being heard by anyone except the intended listener.

This system provides clear, quiet and accurate communication between a speaker and a multilingual group or audience without distraction, interruption or misunderstanding.

Language Interpreter using the portable Sylencer translates in real time

Multilingual audience receives the information in their own language

How Does The TalkSystem Work?

The translator speaks into a hand held device called a Sylencer, a voice containment unit housing a specialized microphone. The Sylencer prevents anyone from overhearing the interpreter's voice.

The Sylencer is connected to a small, wireless transmitter which transmits to pocket size receivers with attached earphones. The listeners set the channel on the receiver to the appropriate language and can then hear a simultaneous translation of the speaker's words as they are spoken.

How Long Does It Take To Learn The TalkSystem?

There is no start-up time or learning curve to consider. All that is needed is an interpreter. This simultaneous language translation system has eliminated the need for a sound-proof booth. All component parts are lightweight, portable and wireless, allowing the speaker, listeners and translator to move about freely.

"The TalkSystem has truly opened the door to City Hall for people who may not speak English."

Victor Gordo
Council Member, City of Pasadena

*Every listener hears your message in their own language as you are speaking!
No more confusion or frustration because everyone gets the same information at the same time.*

*There is a dramatic reduction in the length and cost of meetings because the message only has to be delivered once.
Participation and involvement increase because everyone feels included.*

If some of the people who need to hear your message don't understand the language you speak, then you need the TalkSystem!
